

Your Summer Clerkship at Destination: Gadens

Many of you will be choosing between spending your summer travelling, and spending your summer gaining valuable work experience by taking up a summer clerkship.

Travelling is all about getting out of your comfort zone and having new experiences. People often refer to a big trip as going away to "find yourself".

But you don't need to go overseas to find yourself. If you take up a summer clerkship at Gadens and you may very well 'find yourself':

working with a collegiate team collaborating with industry leaders and blue chip clients playing a meaningful role in top shelf litigation and transactions taking in some culture through our involvement with the Griffin Theatre giving back to the community by participating in a United Way project

You will get out of your comfort zone. You will have new experiences. And like me you may well "find yourself", feeling very much at home at what the partners and staff of Gadens feel is the best law firm in the country.

Of course, as with any great opportunity, places are limited.

To find out more about us or the application process, visit our website – www.gadens.com.au or email Sharon Hiserman at shiserman@nsw.gadens.com.au

And because reading hundreds of summer clerk applications is really no fun at all, satisfying one of this year's random special criteria will entitle you to an instant interview:

1. list the middle names of all of the partners of Gadens Sydney as at 30 June 2008;
2. draft your application entirely in prose, in the format of Dr Seuss' "Green Eggs and Ham"; or
3. accompany your application with an Elle Woods style application DVD.

Attempting to satisfy all 3 criteria is just plain showing off.

If you do become one of our "chosen ones" you'll find yourself spending your summer at Destination: Gadens. Where the natives are friendly, the accommodation is comfortable and the beer is always cold.

Click here for some stories from last year's summer clerks.

Amber Warren
Senior Associate
Gadens Lawyers Sydney